Suggested dress for the Forum is business casual during the conference days, except for the evening events which will be casual. Please note that temperatures inside the meeting space may vary, so we suggest dressing in layers.

What's weather like in Texas in May?

The average high is 85 degrees Fahrenheit, with an average low of 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

Why should I stay in the conference hotel?

It has been our experience that staying in the conference hotel is not only a great convenience, but fosters better comradery and networking with attendees which offers additional learning.

As the team organizing the meeting, we ask that you stay in The 2017 Forecasting & Replenishment Forum room block at the hotel because when running a meeting, we must choose a venue that has space that will accommodate our video needs for properly displaying software. We are granted space based on the anticipated number of room nights in revenue brought to the hotel. If attendees stay in alternate hotels, we must pay higher fees for our space which will lead to higher attendee registration fees in subsequent years.

We do our best to provide a professional meeting, with healthy food, in a comfortable venue, with a bit of fun included, at the lowest price possible. We greatly appreciate your support in staying at the conference hotel.

Thank you so much for joining us!!!

Can I get hotel points for my stay?

The St. Anthony Hotel is a Starwood property. If you participate in Starwood's SPG Awards program, be sure to provide your SPG number to the hotel as you make your reservation. You will then accumulate points for your stay.
